Rucksack essentials need to include:

• The Army Values
• Smart Money Choices
• Employment
• Education
• Health and Healthcare
• Healthy Relationships
• Effective Stress Management
• Sexual Harassment and Assault Prevention
• Responsible Choices

If your rucksack doesn’t include the tools listed in the column to the left, you may find staying Army Strong to be a real challenge. As a Louisiana Army National Guard Soldier, it’s important to find balance in managing an Army and civilian livelihood.

Bottom Line Upfront (BLUF): Army life is not for everyone, and the difference for those who succeed doesn’t hinge on what’s done for them, but rather on what they do for themselves to be squared away and ARMY STRONG!
The motto of the Louisiana National Guard is "Protect What Matters". Protecting what is important is something that is on the mind of all LANG Service Members. We at the Pelican Employment Network seek to ensure that all members of the Louisiana National Guard are properly prepared for any situation that arises.

When a Service Member undertakes a mission for the very first time, the one tool they will not have for their rucksack is experience. We will bridge that gap and provide all information necessary to equip Service Members with valuable resources.

The Pelican Employment Network (PEN) can provide comprehensive assistance to Service Members and their families seeking to improve current employment status. Employment Seekers will have their progress tracked by the Employment Advocates and the PEN-CT (Command Team) to filter out any issues that are occurring or may arise when searching or applying for positions. To provide the best assistance and ensure proper tracking, Employment Seekers are required to enroll in the Pelican Employment Network (PEN).

We provide Employment Advocates to act as the first point of contact for the Employment Seekers. The Employment Advocates will assist in the following areas:

Employment Readiness– preparing to join or re-enter the work force; assisting with job search strategies, resume writing, interviewing, networking and self-marketing skills

Career Exploration– identifying career interests and aptitudes; interpreting career and skills assessments; providing information about today’s job market, job opportunities, portable skills and careers, entrepreneurship and federal employment options

Education, training and licensure– learning about education options and licensing or credentialing requirements; identifying, comparing and weighing the costs of potential schools and programs

Career Connection– connecting with corporation, government organizations and non-profits; leveraging resources for employment opportunities

SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND ASSAULT PREVENTION

I. A.M. STRONG … SEXUAL ASSAULT CAN BE PREVENTED

A Band of Brothers and Sisters
When sexual harassment or sexual assault occurs, it is not only a direct violation of our Army Core Values and Warrior Ethos, but also an assault on what it means to serve in the profession of arms. The Army way of life — a life in which it is our duty to protect and take care of each other no matter the time, place, or circumstance. We have a personal and professional duty to intervene and prevent sexual harassment and sexual assault.

Sexual assault is a crime
It betrays victims and their Families; erodes the bedrock of trust upon which the profession of arms is grounded; and has a corrosive effect on our unit readiness, team cohesion, and command environment. The damage resulting from sexual assault extends far beyond the victim, weakening the very health and morale of our Soldiers, breaking the bond of trust within our team, shattering the confidence Soldiers have in one another, and undermining unit readiness.

Know Your Part
Each of us has a unique role in preventing and responding to sexual assault. We must recognize our part in stopping this crime starting with our own awareness and knowing when and where to intervene.

Do Your Part
We must act. If we see a crime or inappropriate behavior unfolding, we need to step in to prevent it. We each need to add our voice to the call to end sexual harassment, assault, and other inappropriate behavior.

Responsible Choices

High-risk alcohol choices are not in line with Army Values. High-risk choices can lead to poor decision making, legal troubles, and increase your risk of alcohol dependence. Take charge of your career and don’t be fooled by common misconceptions associated with alcohol consumption.

Common Misconceptions
- “I drive better when I have been drinking. I pay more attention!”
- “3 beers is nothing. You can’t even tell when I have had 6!”
- “That’s what you do (in college, after work, when you’re my age).”

Reality Check #1
You can get a driving related offense even if you are UNDER the legal limit. If the officer can document that you are impaired, you can still be charged and if you are underage, zero BAC is the only guaranteed way out of a charge.

Reality Check #2
Alcohol acts as a depressant on the central nervous system. Even if you pay closer attention, your reaction time is slower. It’s science, not opinion.

Reality Check #3
Higher tolerance — or being able to ‘look’ sober after drinking more – your friends might think it is cool but you are increasing your chances of legal and physical consequences. Ask yourself this question: Will you or your friends be responsible for what you do?

Reality Check #4
If the people ‘preaching’ to you are people you have considered to be friends, they may be looking out for you. Think about what they are saying and consider the possibility that they may be seeing things that you aren’t.

The quickest way to end an Army career is abuse of alcohol or use of illegal drugs!!!

If you have said any of these things (Reality Check 1-4) or want to know more about how alcohol and other drugs may be impacting you or someone close to you, don’t wait to act, call our team of professionals.

Skilled Trades

Registered Apprenticeship programs provide a defined path toward a career in a specific industry while offering some of the best overall pay and benefits. Skilled trades rank #3 in Ohio for future employment demand with over 29,000 openings expected through 2020.

Advantages of Apprenticeship Programs
- Immediate employment and wages — work while you learn and earn College credit for the instructional portion of the apprenticeship
- Low or no tuition rates; many programs are sponsored by employers
- High placement rates once complete with training (averages 2-4 years)
- Contact the Education Office Guidance Counselor to explore all your education/apprenticeship assistance options.

Louisiana Veteran Entrepreneurship Program
Designed to boost business opportunities for Louisiana veterans, LVEP encourages participation from members of the U.S. military branches and the Louisiana National Guard who have completed their service commitments and who are highly motivated to launch a new business in civilian life. Training will include business planning, marketing, financing, capital formation, and other skills and strategies that are key to operating a successful small business.

The program targets training over 100 veterans in its first year. After a screening process, selected participants will take part in a three-week online course followed by intensive in-person training over a one- to two-day period. As veterans move forward with their business plans, they will be guided through the business formation process by members of the Louisiana Small Business Development Center Network, SCORE, business incubators and others.

LVEP partners include LED, Louisiana Economic Development; the Louisiana Department of Veteran Affairs; the Louisiana National Guard; the Louisiana Business & Technology Center; and LSU Executive Education within the E.J. Ourso College of Business.

Participants must have access to a computer and internet connection to participate in the three-week online portion of the course and complete assignments.

It’s good to be young and in good health. Sometimes being in good health can lead to a false sense of security and perhaps underestimating or discounting what may be in your best interest. One day when you least expect it, you will find yourself in need of medical care. Without health care insurance out-of-pocket costs can set you back significantly.

The good news is you don’t need to go at it alone because one of the greatest benefits afforded to you as a Soldier is very reasonably priced health insurance.

TRICARE Reserve Select (TRS) is a low-cost insurance available to Ohio National Guard Soldiers and their Families. TRICARE Reserve Select also meets the minimum essential coverage requirements under the Affordable Care Act; therefore, no penalties to pay come tax time.

Monthly TRS premiums effective 1 January 2017 are:
- $47.82 per month for Soldier-only coverage and
- $217.51 per month for Soldier and Family coverage

Deductibles are based on rank, $50 per member/$100 per Family for E4 and below and $150 per member/$300 per Family for E5 and above. Cost-shares after the deductibles are met; 15% for network providers and 20% for non-network providers.

Consider this …
According to the Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation, the average health premium for individual coverage in 2014 was $502 and Family coverage was $1,403 per month.

Clearly, TRS premium and deductible costs are significantly less. Do not pass on this excellent benefit.

To learn more and sign-up for TRS go to: TRICARE.mil/TRS or call 877-874-2273

Looking for new opportunities and employment to networking, training, and hiring veterans, service members, and Military Family members.

Clearly, TRS premium and deductible costs are significantly less.

Train and hire veterans, service members, and Military Family members. If you are looking to use your GI Bill Benefits we can help you with close relationships with other people and does not support your involvement in activities that do not involve him or her, you are not in a healthy relationship. If your partner does not take responsibility for his or her actions, but is quick to blame you for his or her failures, does not support your right to make decisions about your own life, resorting to verbal abuse or physical violence to control you, you are not in a healthy relationship.

Consider this through partnerships with state and local apprentice professions in Louisiana Apprenticeship programs and skilled trades are some of the most sought after.

通过合作伙伴关系与州和本地就业计划，我们可以在确定哪些行业、职业，以及新兴工作机会在路易斯安那州提供。如果您正在考虑使用路易斯安那州国民警卫队奖学金或GI法案，我们可以为您提供有关您的学位如何融入就业市场和职业的评估。

At its core, a healthy relationship is based on the belief that both partners are equal. Each of you should possess the ability to listen in a non-judgmental manner, respecting differences and validating each other’s feelings. A healthy relationship involves a commitment to support each other’s goals in life, encouraging each other to be independent, have other friends, and enjoy different activities and interests. It may mean making financial decisions together and involves compromise, accepting change, and seeking mutually satisfying solutions to conflict. Finally, and most importantly, it means communicating openly and truthfully, admitting when you’re wrong or have made mistakes, and helping the other person feel safe in the relationship through both your words and actions.

In any relationship there will be tough times, varied opinions, and regrettable moments. The difference between healthy and unhealthy relationships is how you and your partner handle difficult situations.

If you are in a relationship where you are not encouraged to share your opinions and where your opinion is not valued, you’re not in a healthy relationship. If your partner tries to keep you from having close relationships with other people and does not support your involvement in activities that do not involve him or her, you are not in a healthy relationship. If your partner does not take responsibility for his or her actions, but is quick to blame you for his or her failures, does not support your right to make decisions about your own life, resorting to verbal abuse or physical violence to control you, you are not in a healthy relationship.

We connect veterans, service members, and Family Members who are looking for new opportunities and employment to networking, training, apprenticeship programs, and employment preparation.

A little stress isn’t always bad — it can be an effective motivator and the adrenaline that stress creates can help improve both mental and physical performance. But too much stress can negatively affect your performance on duty, your relationships, and your physical and mental health. Fortunately, there are many ways to control and reduce stress. Learn and apply these stress-management techniques to help limit your stress, stay more relaxed and positive, and maintain a high level of performance both on duty and at home.

1. Take good care of yourself. Get enough sleep, exercise, and eat nutritious foods.
2. Have a positive outlook. In addition to caring for yourself physically, try to maintain a positive “can do” attitude to keep your stress level under control.
3. Laugh often. Remember that you can take your military duty seriously without always taking yourself seriously.
4. Learn to relax. When you feel stressed, take a few deep breaths and envision yourself in a peaceful place. You can also take a walk, listen to soothing music, or read a good book.
5. Make time for activities you enjoy. If you don’t make time, you may never “find” the time to relax and enjoy life.
6. Learn to recognize when you’re stressed. Excessive stress can cause symptoms from neck or back pain and headaches to upset stomach, trouble sleeping, and fatigue. When you notice these symptoms, too much stress may be to blame.
7. Focus on the things you can control. When you feel anxious or stressed, ask yourself, “Is there anything I can do to change this situation?” If the answer is no, try to let it go.
9. Simplify your life. Learn to say “no” to obligations and activities that will overload your schedule.

If you suspect that you may be in an unhealthy relationship or could use some assistance in managing stress more effectively, don’t hesitate in taking advantage of the free and confidential resources listed.
